ABOUT OUR MATERIALS & PUBLICATIONS

SHIKSHAMITRA responded to the gaping need for learning materials that spark an interest in a child's own world. We felt a need for materials that could help teachers use classroom time creatively and efficiently. Design and production of teaching learning materials for mathematics and language have been a core area of the organization., adding more interest to teaching and learning, enhancing quality enhancement of the process and making classrooms less textbook centric. The materials are designed and produced in-house.

PORA-LEKHA, ONYO MUKH ONYO CHAHIDA

By Sudeshna Sinha

The book is a collection of class experiences from teaching Bangla to first-generation schoolgoers at Shikshamitra school. The students claimed that they do not know any Bangla. The interactive classes were woven around the life experiences of these children, creating appropriate and valuable teaching strategies and materials. Recommended for teachers working with all such children and searching for methods that will work.

GOLPO NIYE

Children are reading less and less. They prefer short stories with exercise that can be completed in a short time. Golpo Niye is a set of 25 creatively designed and laminated reading cards. It includes original texts and illustrations by different students as well as authors. A Note to Facilitators on how to use the cards comes handy. It has been created to boost reading and comprehension skills for Bengali speaking/learning children (8-12 yrs or more) as well as for adults who are able to read and write simple Bangla.

A HANDFUL OF STORIES AND STUDENT WORKSHEETS

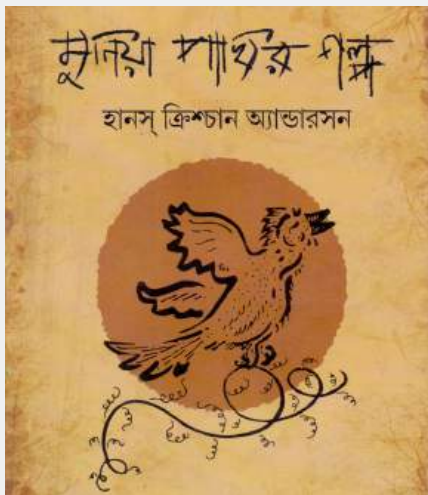

A collection of 13 stories and activities was born out of regular classroom and workshops for teachers. The stories are of about 3-6 lines each (an example is given at the beginning of most exercise sets). With the exercises together the stories promote reading and comprehension using basic English that the user (age 10+) has mastered at the early level.

CHHATA (BENGALI)

Chhata is the Bengali translation of a story that was originally written in Japanese by Taro Yashima. It tells the story of a father looking through a photo album and remembering the day his little daughter, Momo, was independent enough to walk alone. It was a day to remember for her father but she may not even remember the day herself!

কাক নামে ডাক

KAAK NAMEY DAAK

The story takes place in a small town in India, where a boy nicknamed Nata, hides under the schoolhouse on the first day of school. As the school year progresses, the other children learn that Nata is afraid of the teacher and the other students who poke fun at his strangeness.

The story of Nata unfolds beautifully as we read on till the very end. The illustrations in black and white add to the narration of the story Kaak Namey Daak.

MORE FOR THE CLASSROOM

POSTER: PICASSO QUOTE

This poster uses a student's painting to illustrate the famous quote by Spanish artist, Pablo Picasso.

“Every child is an artist – the problem is how to remain an artist once we grow up.

Product: 0017

Rs 20

POSTER: TWO WOLVES

On one side of this poster is the original native Cherokee folk story about how to balance the good and bad sides we all have within us. On the other side is the story a Shikshamitra student wrote down after hearing this story. Although the translation is not the same, she expresses the essence and power of the original story.
